Review of Action Tracking Log and 30-day Look Ahead

Doug Burns reviewed the Action Tracking Log and 30-day Look Ahead as posted to the website. The simplified uncertainty descriptions will be posted to the webpage once they have been reviewed.

The work package is being revised by Paul Wichlacz and Steve Piet. An overview fact sheet will be developed between April 1 and May 1. E. B. Nuckols reiterated that groundwater needed to be included when validating the uncertainty list.

Plans are to develop an electronic library where all technical baseline data will be available. Paul Wichlacz is researching tools that could be used.

Web Site Records

Jan Brown reported that the information being collected on website hits is within OMB protocols. The privacy/security notice (<http://www.inel.gov/notices/>) specifically declares what is being collected. No individual information is being collected, only Internet Protocol (IP) domain addresses.

CAB Presentation

Jan Brown made a presentation to the INEEL CAB on the project approach and stakeholder involvement plan. CAB members agreed to look through the plan and provide comments. Jan also reported that Penny Phelps, INEEL Director of Communications, is interested in supporting training in public participation for interested Water Project personnel. A training session is tentatively scheduled for June 4 and 5.

VE Session Values Input Summary

Jan Brown presented a summary of the input from phone interviews completed to date with stakeholders. Once the interviews are complete, the information will be provided to VE session participants to provide a context to be used to develop criteria and priorities.

The questions being asked are:

1. Of what importance is the INEEL to you and your organization/community? What current work is of particular interest and why?
2. With respect to protecting the Snake River Plain Aquifer, what factors should we keep in mind as we proceed with our cleanup projects?
3. From your perspective (or that of your community/organization), what are the most important public values and attitudes for us to understand as we set our research priorities?

The suggestion box for the webpage is being worked on.

Next Meeting

Wednesday, March 27, 2002

Public Information Sources

After the meeting adjourned, the group discussed their perceptions of who and where the public obtained information on INEEL issues (i.e., from the mainstream media or from other sources). The University of Idaho study conducted by J.D. Wulfhorst may provide some of this information.
